Assist and train the Self Help Groups for Entrepreneurship training to management personnel.

Chairman's Message

I am pleased to table Annual Report of the Institute for the financial year 2015-16. Now the Institute is more than decade old, however I have pleasure to note that the freshness in development approach still exists. The task of rural development and self employment is being performed well.

The focus on Agriculture and services is continuing, whereas the training programmes on income generation are emphasized. The year under review witnessed 49 EDP for 1415 participants. The Institute is true to its philosophy that fortune lies at the bottom of the pyramid. Such being the case, the concentration on rural development is primary for the Institute.

The Institute supports 1522 No. of SHGs covering 18602 members. The majority of women members are encouraged in income generation activities. The hand holding and bank linkage of the groups are well looked after by the Institute. The satellite centre of the Institute at Dandeli, Mundgod, Joida are part of the development of those areas. I am really happy that the Institute over the year has become integral part of rural development.

In sync with the time, the Institute has taken up skill up gradation programmes and during the year two programmes were conducted. The Institute now deliberating on new generation programmes and also strengthening the Apparel Training Centre at Dandeli and promote employment generation.

All these efforts were possible with active support of Canara Bank and philanthropist, donors and sponsors. I acknowledge their support and the team of the Institutes should be appreciated for their hard work.

 On the occasion of tabling the 12th Activities Report of Canara Bank Deshpande RSETI, Haliyal, for the year 2015-16, I wish to recall the sayings of a wise man "Youth is the trustee of posterity". Here I am proud to say "CBD RSETI is a Trustee of Youth".

The ultimate objective of the Institute is to holistically empower the rural youth to find a decent livelihood through a legitimate means by and for themselves. In this direction CBD RSETI, Haliyal has ably assisted and motivated the youth to explore their abilities. 8. Share of Weaker Section

It is an accepted fact that there is a large proportion of population which lacks resources and suffers from deprivation of different kinds including unemployment, illiteracy and ill health. The deprivation is more pronounced in the case of weaker sections such as women, scheduled castes, scheduled tribes, and backward communities.

Both central as well as state governments are focusing their schemes to support these communities for socio economic development. CBD-RSETI also made its best efforts to reach these people.

10. Entrepreneurship Awareness Programme

EAPs (Entrepreneurship Awareness Programmes) play very important role in identifying suitable youth for training programmes of RSETIs. If suitable youth do not participate in training programmes, the settlement rate will come down. Hence CBD RSETI focused on effective EAPs during this year.

EAPs were conducted at various places of North Karnataka for generation of suitable applications. We could generate more than 1000 applications by way of motivational lecturing, story telling and games in these EAPs. In many EAPs, our past successful trainees also have participated and shared their experience.

11. Follow-up

The objective of the Institute is to make unemployed youth settled. Therefore just organising the training programmes is not the main role of the Institute. Doing follow-up of trained candidates with support system plays a vital role. Handholding support like bank linkage, placement service for wage employment, boosting of marketing process through Udyog Bazaars or Melas and alumni association functions are catalytic activities for trainees' settlement. The institute is doing follow-up of trainees by calling them to nearby bank branches of their locality, by way of letter correspondence, trainees' visit to the Institute, over telephone and trainees' unit visit by staff.

During the year Institute has performed 111 follow-ups to reach 2027 candidates.
